

WATER

After Fight Crimson With Blood

ARMIES MET WAIST DEEP IN THE STREAM

The Japs Were Repulsed With Heavy Losses

IN THE PORT ARTHUR ASSAULT.

According to Report From Liao Yang—The Squadrons United, Says One Report Today.

Tokio, June 9.—(Bulletin.)—Japanese soldiers wounded in battle at Nanshan have arrived in Tokio and give vivid details of the fight back of Kinkow. The armies, they say, met waist deep in water and hand-to-hand encounters occurred all along the line. So fierce and sanguinary was the encounter that when the Russians retreated the water was crimson with blood.

JAP REPULSE REPORTED.

London, June 9.—A dispatch to Reuters' Telegraph company from St. Petersburg transmits the following from Liao Yang:

"The Japanese, June 6, according to Chinese reports, made several sustained and stubborn attacks on Port Arthur simultaneously by land and sea. They were repulsed with severe loss."

"The position of the Japanese in Kwan Tung is said to be precarious."

"There are rumors from the same sources that the Vladivostok squadron has effected a junction with the Port Arthur fleet."

VESSELS REPAIRED.

Rome, June 9.—A dispatch from Tokio this morning states that a Japanese cruiser, four destroyers, two gunboats and five torpedo boats which were damaged during the various engagements at Port Arthur have been repaired at Sasebo and have gone to rejoin Admiral Togo's fleet.

MINOR NAVAL FIGHT.

St. Petersburg, June 9.—The Liao Yang correspondent of Russia wires that a minor naval fight occurred in the gulf of Pechili yesterday, in which one Japanese battleship was sunk. The correspondent adds that Chinese from the south say the Japanese attacked Port Arthur, on what day is not specified, and were repulsed with a loss of 3,500 men and four war vessels, probably torpedo boats.

On June 7, the Japanese are reported to have bombarded the coast between Kwang Tung and Seny Chen. There were no casualties, though many shells were burst.

ALARM CLOCK

Carried by Girl Who Leaped Into the Lake at the Hour of Her Lover's Wedding.

Waukegan, Ill., June 9.—Because her lover, Allen Jackson, planned to marry another, Nora Calloway tried to commit suicide by jumping into the lake, and had with her an alarm clock so she could time herself and jump in just on the minute she thought her lover was to be made another's husband. Her plans were carried, for not only was she saved by two men, but afterward she learned her lover had been married two weeks.

Miss Calloway left this note to her sister:

"Dear Sister—I am tired of life and the only way I can find rest is in the lake. When you have received this I will be dead. Good-by. NORA."

Miss Calloway walked out on the south pier and just at 8 o'clock she leaped in. Captain Wagner and Light-house Tender Grainer heard the noise and in about seven minutes reached her. Her skirts had kept her above water.

BATTLE

Fought by Union Miners and Troops in Colorado—One Man Killed—Fourteen Captured.

Victor, Colo., June 9.—A pitched battle between the military and union miners was fought at Dunnville, the new mining camp, 13 miles out of Victor, shortly after 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon. John Carley, a union miner, was killed. The troops returned to Victor at 8 o'clock last night, bringing with them 14 captives.

Before the special train left Victor bearing the force under General Bell, it was reported that the miners in the hills about Dunnville numbered 250 men and that it was their intention to march into Victor in a body and attempt to liberate by force the inmates of the temporary "bull pen" in Victor. That the force actually consisted of but 21 men is the statement of one of the 14 men who were captured by the militia.

Cripple Creek, June 9.—The district is again quiet today, after yesterday's exciting events. "No further trouble of any kind is expected as the militia and two hundred deputies are in charge of the camp. The only incident of importance last night was the raid on the office of the Victor Record, the official organ of the Western Federation of Miners in this country. The corner's jury is sitting today in the Independence outrage, but no verdict is possible for several days.

MILLIONS

Left by Diamond King May Revert to Mary Ecker, a Missionary and Relative of Rhodes.

Ashville, N. C., June 9.—Mary Virginia Rhodes, who is now Mary Virginia Rhodes Baker, an heiress of Cecil Rhodes, who has been searched for the country over since the death of the African diamond king a few years ago, has turned up in Asheville. Mrs. Baker is a missionary, and has been doing mission work in the mountain districts, barely earning a livelihood. She is staying in the Winsor Hotel.

By mere chance Mrs. Baker learned that she had fallen heir to a fortune. In conversation with friends the incident of the missing Virginia Rhodes was mentioned. The want "ad." first appeared in the New York papers. Mrs. Baker has not seen her parents since she was 14 years of age. She had heard nothing of her father since then, but had two photographs, one of Cecil Rhodes, and one of William Rhodes, Cecil Rhodes's father. Her mother and father had separated on account of a religious argument.

She was married when she was 14. Her husband died the following year. She was married to her second husband, a minister, at 18, and he was killed in an accident a few years afterward.

Mrs. Baker has communicated with United States Consul Evans about her supposed fortune.

Kentucky Democrats.

Louisville, Ky., June 9.—Today the Democratic state convention defeated the minority report and adopted the majority report of the rules and organization committee. This elected Governor Beckham, United States Senators Blackburn, McCreary and Congressman James as the big four, and Louis McQuown as state chairman. A resolution to instruct the delegates for Parker was howled down. Swager Sherley of Louisville renewed the motion and it was overwhelmingly defeated. The unit rule was adopted. The Beckham forces had entire control of the convention. The delegates are uninstructed and the unit rule was adopted.

Revolution Ends.

Washington, June 9.—The navy department this morning received the following dispatch from Rear Admiral Sigsbee:

"Monte Cristi, June 8.—Custom house at Monte Cristi will begin transaction of business tomorrow. All ports in San Domingo are now open to commerce. Revolution is ended."

SATOLLI

Arrives in New York From Rome on a Triple Mission—Received a Cordial Welcome by Friends.

New York, June 9.—Cardinal Satolli arrived from Rome today on the steamer Princess Irene. The cardinal has a triple mission in this country. He is to look over the field for a new cardinal, perform the ceremony at the Ritchie-Maloney nuptials, in Philadelphia, and finally to see the St. Louis exposition. A large party of leading Roman Catholics went down to quarantine on the steamboat Sea Gull to greet Monsignor Satolli and to bring him up to the city.

SAD SCENE

WHEN CHILDREN KISSED THEIR CONDEMNED FATHER,

Who Is to Be Executed Next Week at Columbus—Cases of Other Annex Victims.

Columbus, O., June 9.—One of the most pathetic of the many sad scenes enacted within the walls of the penitentiary occurred when the three children of Michael Schiller, condemned murderer, kissed him good-by.

Schiller will be executed early on Friday morning of next week. He was convicted in Mahoning county of the murder of his wife. Schiller put up a fight for his life, but there is no hope for him, as the state board of pardons rejected his application for commutation of sentence, and the governor stood by the action of the board.

The three children soon to be orphaned are now in a Roman Catholic children's home in Cleveland. Friends of the condemned man arranged for the final interview. The oldest, Minnie, is 11 years of age, and she brought her two young brothers to the penitentiary from the Cleveland home.

Schiller presented the daughter with his gold watch and chain and the little boys with silver watches.

Al Wade, convicted of the murder of Kate Sullivan, in Toledo, and Mose Johnson, colored, convicted of the murder of an insurance agent named Wm. Test, in Portsmouth, will have to go to the electric chair. Thursday night the state board of pardons rejected their applications for commutation of sentences.

Mose Thompson will be executed Saturday of next week. Al Wade will be electrocuted July 14.

Three executions are scheduled for Friday of next week. It is likely that Charles Stimmel, of Dayton, will get an extension of time so as to permit the higher courts to pass on his case. The other two are Schiller and Lewis Harmon, of Columbus, convicted of the murder of Farmer Geyer.

SENATOR QUAY

Endorsed McKenna When He Learned What the Man Had Done for Him Years Ago.

Washington, June 9.—Chas. F. McKenna, a lawyer of Pittsburgh, was this morning appointed United States District Judge for Porto Rico. McKenna was recommended for the position by Representative Daisell and it is related that Daisell went to Senator Quay shortly before the latter's death in order to procure his endorsement, the senator at first declined, saying that he did not know McKenna.

"But you did know him well enough at Fredericksburg," replied Daisell, to accept from him the offer of a horse after your own had been shot from under you."

"Well, if he is the man that stole that horse for me," said the senator, "I will certainly have to endorse him."

Owingsville Ky., June 9.—A telephone message from Irvine county states that Blue Puckett and John Murrell, mountaineers, fought a duel in the Estill county mountains. Both men were killed. The men had been enemies for many years.

In a recent case in a Paris court it was stated that the defendant, a young officer of cavalry, had spent $400,000 in five months.

THE SULTAN

Has Acceded to All Demands of Raisuli, Who Is Expected to Release Prisoners.

Washington, June 9.—The Sultan of Morocco has acceded to all the demands of Raisuli, the captor of Perdicaris and Varley. Official information to this effect was received by the navy department this morning from Rear Admiral Chadwick at Tangier. His dispatch reads: "The minister of foreign affairs has instructions from Fez acceding to all demands of Raisuli."

This means that Raisuli, if he fulfills his promises, will release the two prisoners as soon as the ransom is paid to him. The amount is believed to be about $55,000.

AUNT BETSY

CELEBRATES HER 98TH BIRTHDAY ANNIVERSARY

At Home in Knox County—Reads Without Spectacles and is Physically and Mentally Strong.

Fredericktown, O., June 9.—Aunt Betsy Fote, living north of town, celebrated her ninety-eighth birthday last Sunday. She lives on a high hill known as Mt. Lenteiw. She was born in New York State, but moved to her present home when a child and where deer and other wild animals abounded in the dense forests surrounding them. She reads readily without the use of spectacles. Her memory is phenomenal, as she can remember the dates of anything of important nature which has happened in the neighborhood since her residence there. She still does the work on the farm and if it were necessary could make her own living. She is a believer in herbs as a medicine and stores away red clover blossoms by the bushel. Thirty years ago a rose cancer made its appearance on her nose and medical men who were experts along this line told her there was no remedy. However she made a salve of her red clover blossoms and applied until the scar now only remains. She is wonderfully intelligent for her age and gives promise of several years more at the old home. Her husband died about ten years ago at the advanced age of 94 years.

New York, June 9.—It is reported that the syndicate now in control of the Pere Marquette railroad is to get possession of the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton railroad. It is reported also that the Pere Marquette had acquired the Toledo Belt railway and that bankers have been asked to buy $7,500,000 bonds on this property to be guaranteed jointly by the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton and Pere Marquette.

PET MONKEY

Wrested a Knife From Crazy Keeper, Who Was Attempting Suicide, and Saved His Life.

New York, June 9.—Leaping from his cage to the ground, a large chimpanzee attached to an animal farm in Jersey City wrested from the hand of Matthew Broessell a knife, with which the man, in a fit of temporary insanity, was attempting suicide. The creature saved Broessell's life.

Broessell had been training the monkey for a number of years, and the animal was greatly attached to him. For the past few days the man had complained of the heat and declared that his reason would not last much longer. While cleaning the cage of his pet he suddenly began to scream. He picked up the knife and slashed his throat several times. The monkey jumped through the open door of his cage, and was wrestling with the man for the knife when the other keepers came. Broessell is in the city hospital in a serious condition.

Bedford, Ind., June 9.—James McDonald tried and acquitted of having murdered Sarah Schaffer, the school teacher, has fled the town. He was given notice through a mysterious agency that unless he departed within 24 hours he would be lynched.

M'CORMICK

Not Liked in St. Petersburg Because of American Sympathy With Japan, It Is Said.

Berlin, June 9.—Reports from a reliable source state that American Ambassador McCormick has been severely persecuted by St. Petersburg society because of American sympathy with Japan. The ambassador has since his arrival in the Russian capital resided in Leuchtenburg place, one of the most magnificent residences in the city. Now, however, he has received notice to quit. The owner of the palace is related to the Russian imperial family and is reported to have said: "My ancestors would turn in their graves if they knew the family home has inhabited by the representative of a country which has shown itself hostile to Russia."

Society, according to the report, is boycotting the McCormick family in every possible way.

Russian anger is said to have been increased because the American ambassador and consuls undertook to care for Japanese interests after the outbreak of the war with Japan.

Complaint is also made because McCormick ostentatiously escorted M. Kurino, the Japanese minister, to the railroad station and bade him an effusive farewell.

ENOCH ARDEN

Like One of Old, Came Back, But Refused to Allow Wife to Divorce. Mah She Had Married.

Marion, Ind., June 9.—The story of Enoch Arden, with a strange variation, has been duplicated in the life history of Edward Lindsay, who died in Hartford City this week.

Lindsay, his wife and family formerly lived in Akron, Ohio, where he was employed in a factory. The panic of 1892 and 1893 caused the factory in which he was employed to close. Lindsay was unable to get employment in Akron, and he went to Columbus, Ohio, in search of employment but without success.

After three weeks the letters ceased to come. Mrs. Lindsay went to Columbus in search of her husband, but failed to find him or to learn what had become of him. She returned to Akron, sold their property and came to this city to join her parents, who had removed here from Ohio.

For ten years Mrs. Lindsay worked as a seamstress to support herself and child.

Stephen Applegate of this city fell in love with Mrs. Lindsay, and asked her to be his wife. Mrs. Lindsay told Applegate if he would wait one year and no tidings of her husband were received, she would then marry him. This was agreed to. The year passed without any news of the missing husband. Applegate and Mrs. Lindsay were then married.

Last fall, three years after the marriage to Applegate, Lindsay appeared here and made himself known to his wife. He told a tale of suffering, theft because of want, and subsequent imprisonment. She offered to divorce Applegate and return to him, but he refused to permit it, saying that it would be unfair to her, their child Applegate and his child. All that he asked of her was that she come to him when dying, and for her to see that he was given a proper burial.

She also requested that she get a divorce from him on the grounds of desertion.

Mrs. Lindsay did as he requested, but refused to live with Applegate as long as Lindsay lived. An application for divorce was filed, the decree granted, and since that time Mrs. Lindsay has supported herself.

Tuesday night Mrs. Lindsay went to Hartford City to attend the funeral of her first husband. When she returns she is to be married again to Applegate, as she declares the first marriage was illegal on account of her not having a divorce from Lindsay, who was living.

MAYOR

Orders Release of Two Men

ACCUSED OF MURDERING GEO. H. TAYLOR

Canton, Ohio, Mystery is Not Yet Cleared Up.

THE WOMAN IS ALSO RELEASED.

Police Claimed to Have Evidence Against Men, But Their Claims Weren't Sustained.

Canton, O., June 9.—Mayor Smith today ordered Richard Quigley and Tiny, Labelle released from the county jail. They had been held on an affidavit charging them with murdering George H. Taylor Sunday morning, May 22. Quigley and Labelle were given a joint hearing before Mayor Smith, the arguments in the case having been made Tuesday.

The mayor took the question under advisement until today. The decision of the mayor was short. He declared that after revising the testimony he found no evidence against the accused that would warrant holding them.

The mayor's court room was crowded with spectators, most of whom were friends of the prisoners. The decision was received with applause and Quigley and Labelle were congratulated. They were at once set free.

By the release of Quigley and Labelle, the Taylor murder mystery is increased. Mrs. Grace Baffert Taylor, who was held in connection with the case after the murder, was released without a hearing, as there was no evidence to warrant holding her.

The Canton police soon afterwards claimed to have certain evidence against Quigley and the Labelle woman, but at the preliminary trial their claims were not sustained.

LEITER DIES

Former Merchant Prince of Chicago Died Suddenly Thursday at Bar Harbor, Me.

Chicago, June 9.—L. Z. Leiter died suddenly at Bar Harbor, Me., this morning. Levi Zeigler Leiter was one of the merchant princes of Chicago until 1881, when he sold out his share in the largest dry goods establishment in the west and went to live in Washington. He came to Chicago in 1865, after serving an apprenticeship as a dry goods clerk in a country store in Maryland. Soon after arriving in the Windy City, Leiter became associated with Marshall Field and soon the two took an interest in Potter Palmer's business. After Potter's withdrawal the firm became Field, Leiter & Company. Leiter invested his large profits in real estate and the wonderful increase through the marvelous growth of the city made him one of the richest men in the city.

The deceased was worth $20,000,000, which remained after he had settled his sons' wheat pit battle for eleven millions and had given a large sum to his daughter, Lady Curzon.

Radium and Blindness.

Radium rays will not at present furnish a cure for blindness, reports Professor Greeff of Berlin in a published account of an official investigation of the optical properties of radium. This research was largely undertaken as the result of a paper by Professor London of St. Petersburg, in which he claimed that there was hope for the blind in radium. According to Professor Greeff, the rays given off by a fluorescent surface excited by radium rays are simply those of ordinary light and as such cannot affect a blind eye. The actual radium rays, however, are sent out in all directions, penetrating all structures, and the effect, a sort of sea green radiance, is the same, whether the radium is held in front of the eye or at the side of the head. It has been asserted that fluorescence actually occurs in the eye and that rays of ordinary light are accordingly emitted, but this view is opposed by Professor Greeff, and the fact is cited that radium rays do not bleach the visual purple of the retina. He also states that when the function of the rods and cones, which transmit visual concepts from the retina to the nerve centers is destroyed the eye is unable to provide for the sensation of sight.—Harper's Weekly.

A Reindeer Express.

The capacity of the reindeer for team work is remarkable. His hoofs are very broad and do not penetrate the snow crusts. His average weight is about 400 pounds. He will swiftly draw a sled carrying 600 pounds and with this load can cover thirty, fifty and even ninety miles a day. The reindeer teams now carry the mails from Kotzebue to Point Barrow, a distance of 650 miles.

Gaelic Movement in Ireland.

The Gaelic movement has met a severe check in Ireland. John McDonagh Mahony is the justice of the peace for Caherciveen and is an enthusiastic Gaelicist. Mr. Mahony insists upon signing his name to warrants and other documents "in characters which are alleged to be those of the Irish language" and persists in the practice, although he has been authoritatively informed by the lord chancellor of Ireland that it is illegal. The justice of Caherciveen insists that his signature is his usual one and disputes the lord chancellor's law, and there the matter rests, except that he is enjoined from sitting on the magisterial bench until he gives assurance that he will "sign magisterial documents in English."

Derelicts of the Pacific.

It is a curious fact that many vessels in the Pacific abandoned by their officers and crews as in a sinking condition have drifted about the seas for months. The latest case of this kind is the ship Benjamin Sewall. She was dismissed last October in the Formosa strait, and the crew took to the boats. They swore that they saw the ship sink, but this was evidently an optical illusion, as she has been seen recently and is now one of those derelicts more dangerous to shipping than sunken reef or passing vessel in a fog.—San Francisco Chronicle.

Who Owns the Railways?

It is estimated that only about $85,000,000, which is approximately 5 per cent of the annual income of our railways, goes to foreign investors. There are not far from 1,000,000 owners of railway stocks and bonds. Of the remaining 95 per cent, $1,684,447,408, 40 per cent is divided among the owners of the stocks and bonds and 60 per cent among 1,189,315 employees. Counting the families supported by the holders of securities and employees, over 10,000,000 people share in the railroad earnings.—Success.

Insects of Arizona.

In southern Arizona the water of many rivers and most of the creeks sinks below the surface of the ground during spring and early summer, appearing again when the rains begin in July and August. The disappearance of the streams would be fatal to many of the insect tribes abounding in that country but for the fact that the insects, in the form of larvae, follow the moisture underground and emerge again, together with the creeks, later in the season.

Britishers—by Time Payment.

It costs 25 10s. to get naturalization papers in England. The Yiddishers have founded a loan office to aid the foreign Jew in poor circumstances by advancing this sum, which is repaid, with interest, at the rate of 1s. 2d. a week. You do almost everything on the installment plan in England now, from buying a cyclopedia cheap to becoming a boy of the bulldog breed at a great reduction.

Cocooned by Mail.

One of the queerest things that ever appeared in the mails in this country was a cocooned that a Louisville (Ky.) girl received the other day. It was not wrapped up in any way, and the 32 cents in stamps and the address were placed on the bare shell. In Europe live fowls and even calves are sent by post, but in this country the postal laws discourage the sending of curios.

MR. ROOSTER LEARNS SOMETHING

Mr. Rooster finished his breakfast and picked up a book to read. He was a great reader and he liked books. "This is good," he said, as he glanced down the page.

"What is?" asked his wife.

"I'll read it," answered Mr. Rooster, and he read:

"Never let a day go by without learning something."

"That is very good," said his wife.

Mr. Rooster laid the book down and strolled out into the street.

"I wonder what I can learn today?" he said to himself.

Several boys were gathered in the street about a big red thing that looked like a very fat bologna sausage to Mr. Rooster. As he looked on the boys turned and ran away.

"That is foolish," said Mr. Rooster.

"They should have waited and learned

IT SENT HIM FORTY FEET IN THE AIR.

what the thing is. Now I shall go over there and learn something."

So he strutted over to the big red thing and looked at it all around and at both ends, but he couldn't make out what it was.

"All I see," said he as he perched himself on top of the affair—"all I see is a little fizzing fire over at this end."

At this very moment there was a terrible explosion as the firecracker went off.

Forty feet in the air it sent Mr. Rooster. Every feather in his tail and half the feathers on his back were blown out. His eyes were filled with powder; his feet were burned to blisters.

When he landed on the ground he didn't know whether he was dead or alive.

He finally pulled himself together and hobbled home to roost as best he could.

"Have you learned anything today?" asked his wife as he entered the chicken house.

"Yes," he answered. "I've learned something, but I don't know what it is."—Pittsburg Dispatch.

An Animal Story For Little Folks

A True Patriot

Toby was the baby of the family, and, though they made a clown of him, he was no fool.

More than that, Toby was a great patriot.

His trainer had dressed him up in the stars and stripes, and Toby was very proud of that.

"Greatest day of my life when I got into them jenns," he used to say.

"Mean to stand up for the flag, and anybody who steps on that suit of mine will have to step on me," all of which was literally true.

One day the clown came into the ring dressed as a Spaniard, with a funny Spanish hat on one side of his little head.

"Ought to be ashamed of himself," argued Toby, "to wear such a rig as that in the presence of the stars and stripes. I just won't act with him; that's all." And Toby sat down on his ample haunches.

"HIT ME, BUT SPARE OLD GLORY."

"Get up, you!" shouted the clown.

But Toby never winked.

"Gwan out er here," cried the little fellow, "or I'll bang yer one!"

"This was too much for Toby.

"He's insulting the American flag," he muttered. "I don't care for myself, but no feller in the Spanish rig is goin' to hit this flag." And he put back his two enormous ears.

"Hit me if you will, but spare Old Glory," said Toby in true Barbara Fritchie style.

The clown was angry. He brought his whip down on Toby—thwack!

Toby knocked him down with his left ear and spanked him with his right. As he did so he cried, "That's Manila Bay, and that's Santiago!"

"They never saw that Spanish rig again."—Atlanta Constitution.

CURRENT COMMENT.

Neither Berne nor Paris uses "13" in house numbers. They use 12½. If superstition can farther go, we do not know how, even in darkest Africa.—Birmingham Age-Herald.

The California is the latest battleship to be launched. If congress does not make separate states of the remaining territories the United States navy will have to take county names pretty soon.—Iowa Register and Leader.

The announcement that hereafter preference will be given to married men, and especially to men of considerable families, in making appointments in the postoffice department conforms to a rule that has long been observed in many private institutions.—Kansas City Star.

The recognition of the billboard as a public nuisance is general, and protests against it come from all sections of the country. Only by the creation of a strong public sentiment can the nuisance be abated, and it is gratifying to note the growth of sentiment in this direction.—Dunkirk Grape Belt.

BRITAIN IN TIBET.

The British march of empire has lost none of its sanguinary hue in its transfer from Indian to Tibetan soil.—Omaha Bee.

The slaughter of the Tibetans by the British is the result of a campaign for the introduction of Indian tea.—Memphis Commercial Appeal.

Many curious things have been done to extend commerce. It may be that the English will deprive one lanna of political power and give it to another to open Tibet to India tea.—Chicago Tribune.

Great Britain publicly admits that she is at war with Tibet. The English are having beastly luck of late in getting into wars that give them no chance whatever to show what their navy can do.—Chicago Record-Herald.

CURIOUS CULLINGS.

Families who dwell in trees are not uncommon in the Philippines.

At a farmers' institute recently held at Nashua, Ia., a resident of that city exhibited corn over forty years of age. It was gathered in the fall of 1864 in Indiana.

At Egerszeg, Hungary, a girl was buried while in a state of coma. Robbers opened her grave to steal her jewelry and were frightened away by the girl recovering consciousness and sitting up in her coffin.

THE MORAL METROPOLIS.

There is no doubt about it—vice hunting has become a fad in Gotham. The papers are full of it. It recalls Israel's remark that London is never so amusing as when in a spasm of virtue.—Boston Herald.

We have had moral crusades based upon waves of virtuous indignation against various forms of illegal and debasing industry, but never till now have we had a moral uprising against gambling.—New York Globe.

CHINA.

There seem to be signs that in spite of a corrupt and incompetent government China is beginning to awake from her sleep of centuries.—New York Press.

What China might achieve if it should be really seized with a desire to take advantage of the long despised European and American science and culture almost passes the bounds of imagination.—Chicago Record-Herald.

For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly falling to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and, therefore, requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. County Surveyor
FRED S. CULLY.

The cry of the "full dinner pail" will not be a Republican slogan this campaign. Neither will the high-sounding phrase "the advance agent of prosperity" be applied to Roosevelt. In fact the Republican cry of "prosperity" won't fool anybody any longer.

The tests which have just been made of the submarine boat Fulton assure the success of the Holland type of vessel. The boat made an under water run of ten miles in one hour and twenty minutes, and rose and sank at the will of its commander. After that it was submerged for twelve hours with a considerable crew, who were none the worse for their experience. It is gratifying to know that our navy will be equipped with effective vessels of this class as long as they are being used by other nations. At the same time it is to be hoped that an international agreement will be reached which will preclude their use for warlike purposes. If this agreement were reached they would still be found useful for peaceful work of importance.

A curious and interesting incident is reported by the superintendent of the Crow agency school in Montana. On May 30 the 170 Indian children of the school were taken on horses provided by the warriors to the Custer battle ground, where the pupils decorated the monument to the slain and also to the graves. Appropriate services were also held. These children were many of them descendants of warriors who took part in the battle, and their action in which they were assisted by some of the warriors themselves was a striking commentary upon the advance their race has made in civilization in the last 28 years, and the improved feeling that has been cultivated between the two races whose representatives once joined in such deadly conflict.

PROPHET PREDICTS THE HOTTEST JULY EVER HAPPENED.

Give ear and hearken unto the direful prediction of the Prophet Hardin, who is wise concerning the weather and sendeth forth his prophecies from Holmesburg, which is over against summer.

"It will be 102 degrees in the shade and we shall have a dry spell of six weeks. July will be the hottest on record. It will be unusually warm all summer."

Prophet Hardin, whose first name is Albert, and who is of African descent, says that he has been foretelling the weather conditions for some time. He augurs terrible destruction of human life through wars, disasters, and pestilence this year.

Here's hoping B'rre Hardin is wrong.—Philadelphia North American.

THE POLICE

Are Making Every Effort Possible to Rid the City of Those Who Are Doing Petty Thieving.

A number of minor burglaries have been committed in Newark recently, and some citizens seem to think that possibly the Newark policemen are not doing their duty and are not as wide-awake and efficient as they should be in guarding the city against midnight marauders. If these people who are inclined to find fault with Newark's lawthin and efficient police would stop and consider a moment, they would come to a different conclusion. No city in Ohio has a better police force; better officered and manned, than has Newark. Every man on the force is capable and efficient, and Chief of Police Sheridan and the other officers of the police force are untiring in their efforts to prevent and punish crime. But it must be remembered that Newark is quite a large city, spreading over a large area of territory, with a large and constantly increasing population. Newark has attained that size, too, and being such a big railroad center that it has more or less of a floating population, which demands the constant vigilance of the civil authorities to keep in shape. The present police force, efficient and faithful though it is, is not large enough to properly patrol the city.

The officers to get rid of the people who are doing the petty thieving about town are now enforcing this rule: All strangers seen on the streets after midnight are arrested and held unless they can give a satisfactory account of themselves. The mayor and the police are wide awake and efficient and are to be congratulated for the effort they are putting forth.

KENYON

SUFFERED THE SAME FATE AS CINCINNATI,

Being Shut Out by Denison in a One-Sided Game Wednesday Afternoon.

The baseball team of Kenyon college went to Granville Wednesday to play Denison university and many thought that a close and exciting game would result when these two rivals met on the diamond, especially in view of the fact that earlier in the season it had required 12 hard-fought innings for the Baptists to win a nerve-racking contest 6 to 5. But on Wednesday there was nothing to the game but Denison, and those who witnessed it could hardly figure where the Gambier boys classed with Stanton's fast aggregation. Kenyon shared the same fate as Cincinnati the day before, and Wooster earlier in the season and were shut out with never a semblance of a run and only two hits, one of them being made in the ninth inning. Denison had her strongest team in the field and when that is said it is easily understood why Kenyon was defeated, and with the same team it is likely that any college team in Ohio would share the same fate. Denison is at least 25 per cent stronger with both Chambers and Edmiston in the game, as their hitting is invaluable. These two pitchers should alternate in the box and in the field, and the games lost by Denison would be few and far between.

There is little to be said about the game except that Denison played the second errorless game in two days. Edmiston, the ex-Georgetown star, pitched a great game, allowing only two hits and at all times was master of the situation. The fielding feature was the capture of a line hit by Green, who threw to Barton in time to complete a fast double. Rockwell made a great catch in left field, but marred his work by a miserable muff later in the game. Larue and Taylor also made nice catches.

Two Families Quarantined for Smallpox—Death of Mr. Berger Causes Sorrow at Hebron.

Hebron, O., June 9.—A subscription of over $1,000 was raised at a business meeting at the Baptist church for the erection of their new church, which will be completed by October 1. It will be remembered that a new Methodist church was dedicated here not long ago.

Dr. O. M. Kramer and wife accompanied their aunt, Mrs. S. Charles, of Marengo, to Columbus, where she will undergo an operation on Wednesday for cancer.

Two special cars on the interurban line passed through here at 7:30 p. m. Tuesday, en route to Buckeye Lake. The Hebron High school alumni also banqueted at the lake the same evening, making in all a very large crowd who tripped the "light fantastic toe" until midnight.

Two families are quarantined for smallpox, Messrs. Charles Pence and Charles Davis. However, both families are getting along nicely.

The sad news of the death of D. C. Berger, of St. Louisville, was received here with much sorrow. Mr. Berger and wife made many friends here while visiting at the pleasant home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Pence, who are badly afflicted with smallpox and cannot be with their friends in their great bereavement.

PRESIDENT'S RECEPTION.

Granville, O., June 9.—The annual president's reception to the trustees, alumni, students and friends of Denison was held at the beautiful new home of President Emory W. Hunt, on the hill, on Wednesday evening, and the rooms of the commodious house were crowded during the entire evening. The rooms were beautifully decorated, while the lawn was brilliantly lighted by a long string of electric lights. Quite a number of out-of-town people enjoyed the hospitality of Dr. and Mrs. Hunt.

NEW GYMNASIUM.

Granville, O., June 9.—At eleven o'clock on Wednesday the cornerstone of the new gymnasium was laid. Invocation was made by Rev. Millard Brelsford, of Urbana, after which Dr. Hunt addressed the large throng of people that had assembled to witness the interesting ceremony and named over the different articles that had been placed in the stone. Dr. Doane then introduced Dr. Stillwell, of Cleveland, who delivered the address of the occasion.

VIOLIN RECITAL.

Granville, O., June 9.—One of the most pleasing musical events of the commencement week of Denison was the violin recital given by Prof. Judson in Recital Hall on Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock. The program was composed of selections from classical composers and was presented in a very artistic manner. Prof. Judson possesses much temperament in his playing, and at no time lacked that warmth of feeling and expression that made the program a very enjoyable one to a very large and appreciative audience.

Granville, O., June 9.—A few years ago, when Denison was in the too-often difficult transition between the old order and the new, all eyes turned toward the newly inaugurated president, under whom the earlier twentieth century of the university was destined to be made. It was indeed a happy bit of student cleverness, coupled with deepest esteem, which summed up the character on whom so much would depend as "the president whom we did not have to learn to love." Happy the man to whom such tribute came unanimously from the hearts of five hundred students and teachers; and happy the institution with a new regime to be lived under such wise, such careful and such loving administration as that of Dr. Emory W. Hunt has proved itself to be.

The early history of Denison university is almost too well known to need repetition here. Certainly it should be so when hundreds of loyal alumni are ready to hold up the standard of their alma mater. For those who do not know, it may be well to recall that the first foundation of Denison—at that time a Denison without even the name—were laid, three-quarters of a century ago, on farm land, about a mile southwest of Granville. It was as a theological school that it first took its place among the institutions. The location is explained by the fact that by far the majority of those long-ago students were forced by stern necessity to become the instruments of working out their own intellectual salvation. So the agricultural resources of the school were developed along side by side with the educational; and we may be pardoned for dreaming that those patiently gathered harvests were the richer because into them went some of the pioneer brain and brawn which later became a power for their country's good. For some time the little community flourished, as similar experiments were doing all over the country; for that was an era when transcendentalism and communism and a hundred other isms were raising their voices in East and West. The Denison of the beginning of the 30's was a Brook Farm, with the communism left out.

And its fate was the same which sooner or later came to all such undertakings. In a very few years the farm was abandoned and the visible assets of the college moved, with great labor, to its present location, which was donated by the generous benefactor who gave the institution its permanent name, Denison. The old "gym," battered and time-worn, still exists as a triumphant monument to the successor of those early days. The new gymnasium, towards which many fond expectations can be turned, can never banish the thought that every inch of the old white frame building is hallowed with blessed memories. This was the beginning of what Granville claims as her intellectual epoch; and certainly an important date for this epoch was the one when the "Old Brown Sem," half proudly, half humbly, took its place literally at the feet of its ambitious neighbor. As "Young Ladies' Institute" the "sem" has sent out too many noble graduates for its influence to be lightly felt, and Dr. Shephardson's noble life is still too near to be unremembered in the spot where his life work counted for all. More than four years ago, one quiet winter day, the young women of Shephardson College scattered over his casket carnations, typifying in number the more than fourscore years of strong and vigorous manhood, every one of which printed its line on the noble memorial in which he still lives.

Other names have left their impression upon the very life of the university, and of these none calls up warmer feelings of gratitude than the one which, finally, in loving appreciation, was given to the preparatory department, for some years past known as Doane Academy. When the recent consolidation of all departments under the general head of "Denison University" demanded elimination of confusion from the minor names, the old title of "Granville College" was revived, as a designation distinguishing the college department for young men from Shephardson, the similar department for young women. Doane kept its own name, forming, with the departments of art and music, the remaining links in the chain.

A cursory consideration of the school and its work cannot touch half the charms that are interwoven into the very hearts and lives of the alumni who are here this week to do it honor. The new halls, to which all hopes are turning, have yet to be consecrated by such school girl pranks as are interwoven in the reminiscences of some of our grandmothers; no new art studies will paint out of memory the shabby old room which perished in the flames in 1900; no walk will ever have as many fond turnings as the one leading to the old college cemetery under the tangled beauties of myrtle and wild rose.

All during this week the old town has resounded with "Helikes" and the hills have echoed back the refrain of Denison songs, new and old, and today thirty-three new names have been added to the list of proud alumni of Denison. All Granville does them honor.

CLASS DAY EXERCISES.

Granville, O., June 9.—The Class day exercises of the class of 1904 of Denison university were held on the college campus hill at 9:30 o'clock on Wednesday morning. The seniors took their seats upon a large platform, built out under the trees, and the exercises were presided over by Morris Wylie, president of the class. The first number was a class poem by Miss Mabel Wylie, which was quite original and was much enjoyed.

The class shoe, originated by the class of 1902, was then handed down formally to Mr. Gale Seaman, president of the class of 1905, who received the shoe from the hands of Mr. Wylie with a neat and appropriate little speech. The celebrated hen, which, it is supposed, interrupted frequently Prof. Williams' senior exercises this year, was also handed down very tenderly and with due ceremony to the appreciative representative of the junior class.

The president of the class of 1905 then presented a beautiful frieze from Thorwaldsen's famous "Harvest," which the class of 1904 gave as their parting gift to Denison. The president expressed the wish that this be hung in Dr. Hunt's recitation room, and after Dr. Hunt made a brief speech thanking the class for the frieze, the exercises closed.

THE RAILWAYS

APPRAISEMENT OF THE BUKEYE LAKE INTERURBAN.

Rockefellers End War With Pennsylvania—Peace is Declared—Fast Time on Rock Island—Notes.

Columbus, O., June 9.—The appraisal of the Columbus, Buckeye Lake and Newark Traction company is announced by Auditor Jones as follows: Overhead work, tracks and right of way, $4,600 per mile; rolling stock, $775; buildings, $2,000; monies and credits, $100.

Columbus, Urbana and Mechanicsburg, overhead work, tracks and right of way, $2,000 per mile; equipment, $100.

Columbus, New Albany and Johnstown, overhead work, track and right of way, $3,300; rolling stock, $1,050; buildings, $120; monies and credits, $100.

The appraisal of the Scioto Valley Traction railway was made Wednesday as follows: Main line, $4,000 per mile; rolling stock, $1,000 per mile; buildings and contents, $500 per mile.

Rock Island Makes a Record.

The Rock Island has established a new record for fast time between Omaha and Chicago. May 22, a special train of five cars, carrying the Anna Held company, left Omaha at 1:00 a. m., arriving at Chicago at 12:00 o'clock noon. The actual running time was 9 hours and 58 minutes, and as the distance is 499 miles, the average speed was nearly 50 miles an hour.

Stops for water were made at Atlantic, Brooklyn, West Liberty, Bureau and Morris. Engines were changed at Valley Junction and Rock Island, and 26 minutes were lost at the latter place while the members of the company ate breakfast.

A performance such as this, made without any special attempt to "break a record," speaks volumes for Rock Island men and methods, for it goes without saying that a speed of nearly a mile a minute for 500 miles is possible only when engines and men and track are of the highest standard.

End War With Pennsy.

New York, June 9.—The announcement is made in Wall street that the Standard Oil interests have called off their war against the Pennsylvania railroad, and that permanent peace has been established between the two factions. The friendly adjustment of relations, it is believed, was made through the personal mediation of John D. Rockefeller, Jr. The Rockefellerers are credited with the declaration that existing business conditions necessitated the immediate cessation of railroad wars.

A. J. Cassatt, president of the Pennsylvania railroad, said that no agreement had been made between his company and the Rockefellerers by which the projected tidewater railroad was to be abandoned, but New York financiers familiar with the railroad situation in the southeast say that negotiations have been completed by which the original plan of the tidewater line will be radically changed. This tidewater scheme has been regarded as a factor in the Gould-Rockefeller fight against the Pennsylvania railroad. The change in plans regarding the construction of the tidewater railroad is said to be the outcome of the peace terms, which stipulated that work on the projected tidewater line should be continued.

Tom Matthews' Decision

By CYRUS DERICKSON

Copyright, 1903, by K. M. Whitehead

His name was Thomas Matthews, but everybody around the store called him Tom. He had come to the business of Haines & Co. when a boy ten years old, and in fourteen years he had gained the position of bookkeeper and cashier. At every stage he had been complimented on his honesty and fidelity, and the day he took charge of the books and the cash Harris, the active partner, said to one of the "Co."

"Well, Johnson, I feel a load off my mind. Tom is as straight as a string, and we need not worry about him. I don't believe that he could be tempted to do a crooked thing."

Never did a young man carry a cleaner record into an office. There had been a thousand chances for peculation, but Tom had not been tempted. If any one had whispered in his ear that temptation was going to get the best of him he would have smiled at the idea. He had put in another year when it came and during that year had married and established a home. The firm had made him a liberal present in cash, and up to the hour of his temptation, had his books been examined and his cash counted, they would have been found correct to a dot.

To oblige a friend he took $50 from the cash account for three or four days. The friend repaid the loan and put Tom on to a "sure thing" in the stock market. Tom invested his week's salary and made $200. It was his first speculation, and the thing seemed so easy that he gave it a whirl a month later and came out several hundred dollars to the good.

The man who wants to speculate can run across "sure things" every hour in the day. Tom had known of scores of men in trusted positions going wrong through speculation, but his name should never be added to the list. He would make or lose with his own money, and not a penny belonging to Haines & Co. should be put in peril.

That was the policy he pursued for six months, sometimes gaining and sometimes losing; but, of course, there was I had some difficulty in getting into the store."

"Who are you, and what do you want?" asked Tom, more puzzled than startled.

"Oh, as to my name, you can pick out any old thing, but as to what I want, I dropped in to do a little business with you."

"But the store is closed."

"Yes, I know, and that's my best time for doing business. Don't you say?"

"You don't mean that you are a burglar—a robber?" queried Tom, after looking the man over for a moment and wondering if it was a real live man who stood before him.

"That's pretty close to it," laughed the man as he sat down on the nearest chair and brought out a cigar and lighted it. When he had taken a few puffs he resumed:

"I've had my eye on this plant for some time, and when I got in tonight I didn't expect to have your company. How does it come that you are here, and what's the matter that you look so seedy? I'd been spying on you for half an hour before I entered the office, and I think you've got a peck of trouble on your mind. Let's hear what it is."

It was a strange situation, but the cashier was in a strange mood. The caller had said that he was a burglar and had come with designs, but yet there was a touch of sympathy in his tones. Tom hesitated for a moment and then told him all. The man listened, nodding or shaking his head now and then, and when he had heard all he said:

"Look here, my boy, there's only one way in this thing. You've got to be either all good or all bad. You can't be half and half and make a go of it. I'm all bad, and I get along very well. What are you going to do?"

"For God's sake, what am I to do?" wailed Tom.

"Want to turn bad?"

"No."

"Is there money enough in the safe to take you out of the country?"

"There's about $800 in there, but I wouldn't touch a penny of it. I've yielded to temptation, but I'm no thief."

"And if you were given a chance?"

"A chance! Why, man, I'd live on crabs here I'd put myself in this position again. Think of my fourteen years' record! Think of my wife and relatives!"

"Yes. The game wasn't worth the candle. Suppose you give me your home address."

"What for?" as he wrote it down.

"Just to know where you live. Suppose that we also go out now."

"Yes, but—"

"Just to get out, you know. I'd like that $800 in the safe, but to get it I'd have to crack you on the head and add to your troubles. If I were you I'd go home and manage to keep this thing to myself for a day or two longer. Come, let's walk out together. Your way is up the street, and mine is down. So long to you."

Before Tom left his house next morning a messenger brought a package containing $1,500 addressed to him. An hour after the package had been delivered the senior partner of the firm was saying to the burglar of the night before:

"Well, I'm glad he took it that way, and he shall have his chance. Tom's honest, and we have got to have honest men about us. I don't think he'll meddle with stocks again, and on Thursday when his books are overhauled they will be found all O. K. All right, Simpson; all right. You worked it beautifully."

Weather Instincts.

From olden times weather wisdom has been attributed to many animals. Thus in Virgil's First Georgic we find:

Looking to the sky
A heifer snuffed the air with nostrils wide.

Or chattering swallows flew around the lake.

Or the frogs croaked in mud their ancient plaint.

The ant from secret cell her eggs had borne.

An army large of rooks, with clamor hoarse.

Their crowded pennons flapped. . . .

Then, too, the unlucky crow, with a full voice.

Calts for the shower.

This for the most part is in singular accord with modern observation. Among other popularly accepted indications of rain are pigs that are restless or carry straws, cats that wash their faces, colts that roll upon the grass, donkeys that bray, toads that crawl at evening, sheep and cattle that huddle together before a storm, black slugs that venture into the open, bees that stay at home, fish that bite readily and peacocks that scream.—London Standard.

Stopped a Leak With Sawdust.

To stop the leakage of a boat by the use of sawdust appears at first suggestion ridiculous. It is a method, however, employed by backwoodsmen of the Adirondack region.

One day a party having considerable baggage discovered upon loading it into a scow at the end of one of the regular "carries" that the boat leaked badly. To delay for repairs would occasion considerable annoyance, and without repairs to proceed seemed impossible.

At this juncture one of the guides said: "I think I can fix it. Just unload the boat again." This was done, and then the guide brought from a sawmill near the spot a quantity of sawdust. This he sprinkled thickly upon the water on either side of the boat.

"Now," continued he, "load up again." This was done, and when the weight again sank the boat the influx of water through the sides and bottom sucked in the sawdust, which finally accumulated in the crevices, swelled, under the action of the water and actually stopped the leakage.

THE ROSEBUD RESERVATION

South Dakota Lands Soon to Be Thrown Open to Settlement.

The unallotted lands of the Rosebud Indian agency, situated in Gregory county, S. D., have been turned over to the government for public allotment, and one more of the few choice tracts of public lands now remaining are to be thus thrown open.

Under President Roosevelt's proclamation United States registry land offices are to be opened July 5 at Yankton, Fairfax and Bonesteel, S. D., for the registration of applicants for these lands. The registration books will remain open until July 23, and commencing July 23 drawings will take place to determine the order in which the applicants will be permitted to make final entry and settlement. The final entry begins at Bonesteel, Aug. 8. No one is permitted to register or make entry to land by mail, but must be personally present at one of the three points named for registration and at Bonesteel for final entry.

The Rosebud Indian reservation is probably, acre for acre, the richest piece of public land that the government now controls. In fact it is doubtful if any reservation ever thrown open by the government represented so high an actual average value for its lands on the day of opening.

The lands in question comprise 332,000 acres, situated between the Missouri and Niobrara rivers, in the southeastern part of South Dakota, in the great corn belt, where adjacent lands are selling at from $25 to $40 an acre. The government will dispose of the public lands of the reservation at a nominal sum, in easy payments—$1 per acre in cash, 75 cents per acre at the end of two years, 75 cents more at the end of the third and fourth and within six months after the expiration of the fifth year, a total of $4 an acre. The Chicago and Northwestern railway extends to the reservation border at Bonesteel.

Repose.

"You say Crispin Gulch has settled down into a quieter and more peaceful community?"

"Yep," answered Broncho Bob confidently. "The boys is learnin' repose. You can shoot a boss thief now without his creatin' a ripple of excitement."

—Washington Star.

A Distinction.

"I understand you're having a portrait painted by Le Bailly?"

"That is true."

"Ab! Since you are connected with him in this way, perhaps you would not object to guaranteeing this little note which he wishes us to carry for him."

"I most certainly should! I am perfectly willing to do it for him, but not to stand for him!"—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

Calve's Sanitarium.

Mme. Emma Calve has founded a sanitarium at Calverley, near her residence in the Avon, says the Paris Daily Messenger. There nearly sixty young girls in need of pure air and medical attendance are received every summer, all the expenses being borne by the great singer. It is reported that burglars have paid a visit to the sanitarium and removed everything they could lay their hands on. Mme. Calve has nevertheless given instructions for the preparation of the sanitarium for the reception of the annual contingent of sick girls.

ONE OF STANLEY'S GIFTS.

How the Late African Explorer Judged Men.

Some men can judge of another man's capacity at first sight. The late Sir Henry M. Stanley had the gift, of which this anecdote is an illustration. When Archibald R. Colquhoun, who is the author of "Greater America," just published by the Harpers, was in the service of the India office he called one day upon the late Sir Edwin Arnold and met Stanley there. They talked to gether a few moments and parted. Next morning a telegram reached Colquhoun from Stanley asking him to call at once.

He did so and was greeted without formality and with the following bullet-like sentence: "Will you go to the Kongo Free State as second in command?" Colquhoun expressed his amazement at Stanley's confidence in him upon so slight an acquaintance. "I always make up my mind at once about men," replied the explorer. Mr. Colquhoun could not accept, as the India office declined giving him leave of absence. Had he gone he would have been the first governor of the Kongo Free State.

MR. JOHN SACHS SCRATCHED HIS HAND.
Blood Poisoning Developed and Life Was Despaired of, But the Patient Is Improving.

The condition of Mr. John Sachs, the well-known member of the tailoring firm of Sachs Bros., who is suffering with blood poisoning at his home, 257 West Church street, was somewhat improved Thursday, and the attending physicians hold out some hope of recovery.

Mr. Sachs scratched the top of his hand on a nail Monday evening at the store. The wound was so slight that no attention was paid to it. On Tuesday the hand became inflamed and very painful, and by Wednesday morning a case of blood poisoning had developed, involving the entire arm. On Wednesday Mr. Sachs' life was despaired of, but it is now hoped he will recover.

DEAD BABY

IS FOUND ON PREMISES OF MR. MINOR ROBB.
Who at Once Reported to the Coroner and Police—An Investigation Is Now in Progress.

Thursday afternoon Coroner C. F. Legge was called to the residence of Mr. Minor Robb, 196 Pine street, the body of an infant child having been found on the premises.

Mr. Robb was moving a closet on his lot, and in doing so saw the foot of a child. Investigation showed that the baby had been thrown into the closet within the past few days.

Dr. Legge said that the child was only a few hours old when thrown into the closet.

Last Sunday the family heard a noise in the yard and heard some one say: "Now, get up and come on." Supposing that some intoxicated persons had wandered into the yard no attention was paid to the remark, but today's developments add significance to the remark.

Chief of Police Sheridan was called and an effort will be made to discover the identity of the child.

Attention, Col. Crawford.

Washington, June 9.—United States Consul General Worman at Munich, believes that now is the golden harvest time for American horse dealers. The Russian edict prohibiting the exportation of horses from the Czar's domain has created a horse famine in Germany, Worman writes the State Department, and horses that would not fetch more than $350 or $400 a team in this country will readily sell for from $1000 to $1500 in Germany. "There is much wealth in southern Germany," Worman writes, "and those who have brought American horses here, have usually realized good profits."

A dedicatory program will be prepared by Mr. Brice and the unveiling will be made an elaborate formality.

Books may now be imported duty free from nations having reciprocal conventions with Spain granting the same rights to books printed in this country.

IT IS SERIOUS.

Some Newark People Fail To Realize the Seriousness.

The constant aching of a bad back.

The weariness, the tired feeling. The pains and aches of kidney ills. Are serious—it neglected. Dangerous urinary troubles follow. A Newark citizen shows you how to avoid them.

C. B. Myers, 30 South Front street, freight conductor B. & O., says: "I had a pain across the small of my back for four or five years. It was such a constant ache that I had little chance to forget it. I went to Crayton's drug store and got Doan's Kidney Pills. This was not the first medicine I had used in trying to get rid of the trouble, but I can say it is the first that ever gave me quick and lasting relief for the backache entirely disappeared."

SUIT BEGUN

TO ENFORCE STOCKHOLDERS' LIABILITY

In the Newark Savings Bank Case—Action Was Begun Thursday by A. Lewenthal.

A. Lewenthal, by his attorney, Wayne Collier, has filed a petition in equity in the Common Pleas court against the Newark Savings Bank company and Henry Scheidler, Wm. E. Miller, R. Doid, Geo. P. Webb, Daniel Smith, J. V. Hilliard, L. P. Schaus, J. V. Goldsmith, J. C. Jones, Hannah S. Allen, James L. Lingafelter, Wm. Christian, W. G. Taafel, Chas. Hettelheimer, Z. T. Duer, Dorothy Weippert, as administrators of the estate of Christian Weippert, Elizabeth Hickey as administratrix of the estate of Owen Hickey, C. E. Adams and Josephine Adams, stockholders, to enforce the liability of said stockholders.

The plaintiff says that the defendants are and were at the time mentioned, holders of shares of the capital stock of the Newark Savings Bank company; that the company was incorporated with a capital stock of $75,000, divided into 750 shares of $100 each, all of which is issued and outstanding except that none of the holders have paid thereon more than one-half of the face value of their respective subscriptions or holdings. The plaintiff says that on May 21, 1904, and ever since the bank has suspended the operation of its business and that it is insolvent and has not sufficient assets with which to pay its creditors in full, and that its assets are now in the hands of a receiver appointed by the court on May 21, 1904. He says that owing to the insufficiency of the assets of the bank, including the unpaid stock subscriptions, that he and the other creditors of the defendant company have no way of securing the payment of their claims in full, except by enforcing the liability of the defendants under the constitution and statutes of the State of Ohio as they existed prior to the 10th of November, 1904; that his claim was a debt of the Newark Savings Bank company on or prior to November 10, 1901. He says that he brings this action not only on his own behalf, but on behalf of all other creditors of the said defendant corporation, and he prays that the court may proceed to ascertain the respective liabilities of the stockholders hereinbefore named, and to enforce the same by its judgment as in other cases, that it shall take an account of the property and obligations due to and from said corporation and shall proceed to and compel each stockholder to pay in the amount due and remaining unpaid on their shares of stock, and that it shall in all respects proceed as is provided by the act of the General Assembly of Ohio, Ohio Laws, Vol. 94, page 360, and that he may have such other relief as he may in equity be entitled to.

WITH NEWARK

Goshoccon Royal Arcanum Will Merge Next Monday Night—To Surrender Their Charter.

Coshoccon, O., June 9.—The twenty-three members of the Goshoccon lodge of the Royal Arcanum will go to Newark Monday night and be formally transferred to the Bayard Taylor council of that city, surrendering their own charter. Regent Wheeler states that it is considered the best plan among the local members to make this move. The order is one of fraternal insurance.

FIRST LOAD

IS SHIPPED BY A NEW NEWARK FACTORY THURSDAY.

The Newark Artificial Stone and Plaster Company Has Several Carload Orders on Hand.

The Newark Artificial Stone and Plaster company is loading the first carload of plaster today, which goes into Maryland. The company has several carload orders to be shipped soon to go out of the state. The traveling representative, C. E. Cochran, has returned from a very successful trip in West Virginia, where the old Dresden Hard Wall Plaster company, the predecessor to the Newark company, has a big reputation. The trade in Newark is requested to visit the plant and inspect the process.

The wall-plaster has proven to be the best on the market and is a complete material, having the sand mixed with it by machinery, making a much better mortar than can be made by hand. It is fully guaranteed and is ready for immediate use. Among the buildings the company has furnished plaster for are the Masonic Temple in Zanesville; Hospital and Opera House, Fairmont, W. Va.; sheriff's residence and county jail, Clarksburg, W. Va., and numerous office and bank blocks throughout Ohio and West Virginia. The building public should patronize and encourage Newark's new industry, which promises to be a good one.

HOT CHASE

Given a Sneak Thief Near Thornville—Man Was Captured and Was Sent to Jail.

Thornville, O., June 9.—With a crowd of men, boys and dogs in hot pursuit, a sneak thief ran madly through the fields towards the woods. The thief entered the residence of Charles Woolard, and was engaged in ransacking the house when the farm land came for a drink of water. In passing the house he noticed one of the windows broken out, and looking he saw a strange man. He immediately gave the alarm by ringing the dinner bell, and in a short time the entire neighborhood was aroused. The thief dashed through the window and into the fields. In a short time his clothes were torn to shreds in running through briars and climbing over fences. In his flight the thief threw away a quantity of jewelry and other articles he had secured in the house. The pursuers rapidly grew in number, and the thief was finally overtaken and captured. He gave his name as Shaw and he was taken to Lancaster by John Johnson and a number of others and turned over to Sheriff Raitz.
